2022 Festival Schedule Published – Tickets On Sale Now

Tickets are now on sale for the 2022 Unscripted Twillingate Digital Arts Festival. This year's event offers a lineup of presenters, including legendary comedian and actor Greg Malone, filmmaker and digital storyteller Roger Maunder, interdisciplinary designer and educator James March, and award-winning photographer Ting Ting Chen.

The festival spans four days, from Thursday, September 15 to Sunday, September 18, 2022.

Experience a variety of exciting performances, such as The Split Peas at The Split Pea Party in their final performance after thirty years. Canada's Drag Race contestant Irma Gerd will be at the Captain's Pub for an exciting night of live drag. The Saturday Soiree will cap off the festival with a performance by Dave Penny and Daunt Lee.

Starting September 01 and running alongside the Unscripted Festival, we have Signal Fire, a curated digital art exhibition from several acclaimed artists, locally and internationally, that will be showcased during the festival in the local Orange Lodge, selected by Toronto-based curator, Greg Manuel.

The Unscripted Twillingate Digital Arts Festival is also excited to present the first ever A Treat on the Trail– an instagrammable event in a tent at Hospital Pond Trail. There will be entertainment along the trail and delectable small plates by renowned chefs, including Roary MacPherson. There is also a guided hike and photo contest of the picturesque Rockcut Trails with views that will surely take your breath away.

“The Unscripted Twillingate Digital Arts Festival is a highlight on the provincial festival calendar and attracts a creative community from near and far. There are lots of fun opportunities for volunteers to participate, and we encourage more folks to join our volunteers who make this festival possible,” says Brad Greeley, Program Manager.

Tickets are available on the Unscripted Festival website at <https://unscriptedfestival.com/schedule/>.

ABOUT

The Unscripted Digital Arts Festival, hosted in beautiful Twillingate, Newfoundland and Labrador is managed by Grow Twillingate Inc. and is made possible with the generous support of the Government of Canada, Government of Newfoundland and Labrador and valued sponsors.

It is a four-day festival that celebrates digital creativity such as photography, filmmaking, music, and mixed media, combined with great entertainment, local cuisine, and interactive adventure experiences. With a motto of create, learn, share, and celebrate, the festival offers workshops that inspire digital creativity, combined with entertainment and culinary delights.

This is the 8th annual Unscripted Twillingate Digital Arts Festival that happens in the third week of September each year as a tourism season extension initiative. During this beautiful time of year when things tend to get a bit quieter in Twillingate, the festival draws visitors from all over with a growing number of participants in our virtual events.
